Re: Federal Civil Rights Statutes; Title 18, U.S.C., Section 242, Deprivation of Rights Under Color of Law and Title 18, U.S.C., Section 241, Conspiracy Against Rights.

Dear Mr. Mueller,

I am writing this letter in response to a correspondence from Senator Sherrod Brown dated August 18, 2011, and my request in regards to Deprivation of Rights of entitlement protected under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

Branches, Agencies, Jurisdiction, Authority, and Officers of the of the State of Ohio Government (hereinafter called the "State Government")

Branches, Agencies, Jurisdiction, Authority, and Officers of the of the United States Government (hereinafter called the "Federal Government")

On March 24, 2011, I filed a complaint with Senator Brown in regards to the FBI refusing to address my complaints involving violations under the Federal Civil Rights Statutes by the State Government, and the failure to protect my rights of entitlements under the protection the Constitution of the United States do to political issues. (See attached complaint)

EVERYONE, who is sworn to the Constitution, regardless of rank, position, title, or office, has the obligation to take every action within their power and capability to restore our Constitution to its rightful status for a FREE people – lest they themselves be charged with Obstruction of Justice, or as co-conspirators in the act of Treason.

The U.S. Supreme Court has stated that "No state legislator or executive or judicial officer can war against the Constitution without violating his undertaking to support it.". Cooper v. Aaron, 358 U.S. 1, 78 S.Ct. 1401 (1958).

Any judge who does not comply with his oath to the Constitution of the United States wars against that Constitution and engages in acts in violation of the Supreme Law of the Land. The judge is engaged in acts of treason. Having taken at least two, if not three, oaths of office to support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Ohio, any judge who has acted in violation of the Constitution is engaged in an act or acts of treason (see below). If a judge does not fully comply with the Constitution, then his orders are void, In re Sawyer, 124 U.S. 200 (1888), he/she is without jurisdiction, and he/she has engaged in an act or acts of treason.

Whenever a judge acts where he/she does not have jurisdiction to act, the judge is engaged in an act or acts of treason. U.S. v. Will, 449 U.S. 200, 216, 101 S.Ct. 471, 66 L.Ed.2d 392, 406 (1980); Cohens v. Virginia, 19 U.S. (6 Wheat) 264, 404, 5 L.Ed 257 (1821)

Misprision of treason, is the concealment of treason, by being merely passive; Act of Congress of April 30, 1790, 1 Story's L. U. S. 83; 1 East, P. C. 139; for if any assistance be given, to the traitor, it makes the party a principal, as there is no accessories in treason.

You above all know the importance of protecting "all Americans" their individual civil rights and civil liberties, you said so yourself in the following quotes.

You had quoted: "Protecting the civil rights of all Americans is one of the FBI's highest missions, whether the violations occurred four days ago or 40 years ago."

On August 4th 2005 you had also quoted: "We have learned many lessons since then. One of the most important of these is that it is our mission to protect the civil liberties of all Americans. Because when just one of us loses just one of our rights, then the freedoms of all of us are diminished."

In the last 15 years, I have lost hundreds of rights protect under the Constitution of the United States by the State Government, the Federal Government has not protected my rights and freedoms; mortifying the degradation of the freedoms of all of us.

We would like to live the American Dream; unfortunately, it would require a functional government to make that happen. I just hope it does not take 40 years.

Sincerely,

Stephen R. Lilley

P.S. How about answering this one yourself.
